President's Message May, 2023

The year is almost over! This Spring seems a little extra hectic, or maybe it's just me... OMTA Eugene/Springfield has come through the Pandemic area with flying colors! Our programs are well attended and well-chaired, and are as strong as ever. We need to keep in mind the enormous value our musical work with students has had in the past few years and will hold for them in the future.

I want to acknowledge the extraordinary and busy month we have had in the past month: the Spring District Recital, the Contemporary Music Festival, the Beverly Soule Scholarship Competition, and the Spring Syllabus. Bravo and brava all!

Please note the change in the meeting planning for May: we won't have a regular meeting this coming Monday. Instead, our end of year social and potluck will be on Monday, May 22 at 9:00 am at the home of Christine Mirabella. Details soon. The Martin Garcia Garcia master class will be this Monday, May 8 at 10:00 am in Beall Hall.

I want to thank the chairpersons and officers of our chapter for their hard work and tremendous support during the past year. You are the backbone of our work.

We are saying goodbye this month to Lucy Clevenger, who is heading to San Diego. Lucy, you have done so much for Eugene/Springfield and your shoes will be hard to fill but we wish you the best! We are having a going-away party next Saturday, May 13. Details to follow.

Don't forget to register for the state conference before May 24 for the early bird rate. Highlights this year include presentations on first years of piano study, interpretation, music fluency, and composition. A couple of others stand out as being very practical: repertoire for small hands, and - this ought to be good - making your teaching life easier!

The date for the biennial Sonatina Festival has been set: October 14, 2023, at Frohnmayer. The repertoire will be focus on women and lesser-known composers and works.

I hoe to see you at the party and/or the social and potluck!

Nick Rieser Eugene/Springfield District OMTA President

Eugene Teacher Showcase Concert

Hello fellow OMTA teachers!

This year, the spring teacher showcase and fundraiser will be May 13th, 2023 at 2:00pm at Unity of the Valley and we would love for you to play!! Unity has a BEAUTIFUL Yamaha 7 6' piano, and we are encouraging people to play classical or popular styles. Also, feel free to invite non-OMTA performers to play with, and playing more than one song is welcome! The deadline to enroll is May 8th, but it would help us to know ASAP what piece you would like to play, if it's a solo or ensemble piece and how long it is.

This is our first in person showcase since the pandemic and I would love to have as many performers as possible! Let's all have a wonderful time together, and make this a successful fundraiser! I think it will be a really enjoyable concert! We welcome original compositions as well as existing repertoire and a variety of instruments!

This is the first time I am heading up an event for the OMTA, and Betsy Parker has so graciously offered her help! I am so thankful she's my co-chair!! So, feel free to contact either or both of us with questions!! My number is 541-510-6451.

My email is songbirdsarahb@gmail.com.

Contemporary Music Festival Report

Festival of Contemporary music took place on Sunday, April 16, at United Lutheran Church. There were 29 students participating in two afternoon recitals and seven teachers - Sandy Hull, Nobuko LeBeau, Wyatt Burger, Genevieve Mason, Alexis Gibbons, Winnie Kerner and Lucy Clevenger. That was a delightful event. The repertoire was diverse and very well performed. All the forms and fees were submitted by teachers in a timely manner. Thanks to all the teachers for all their hard work!

Respectfully submitted,

Lucy Clevenger, NCTM

We have new guitar teacher, Noa Trevor, at Harmony Road Studio.

OTHER BUSINESS:

Banner: If you are the chair for the next upcoming recital, please take the banner at the meeting.

Scheduling of our monthly meetings: Discussion was raised of the scheduling of our Eugene District OMTA meetings on Mondays when a number of involved teachers are unable to attend.

Nick plans to poll the teachers to determine whether a solution to this issue might be possible. It was noted that one of the Portland districts holds their meetings on rotating days in order to accommodate more teachers.

The online option is also important for several teachers. Nick will discuss the results of the poll at the final meeting.

Winter Festival: Nick will also poll teachers to determine whether we should continue the Winter District Recital as we did this year or pursue a different venue in order to have a yearly recital similar to Barnes and Noble.

For venues, Unity of the Valley will continue to receive a special OMTA rate until January of 2024 when the rates could go up to $265. United Lutheran is also still available.

UO SOMD Performing Arts and Career Fair: To be held in Rm. 190 at the UO School of Music. OMTA will have a table with brochures. If teachers would like to help out at the table, it will be a fun opportunity to meet with students and share what OMTA offers.

Masterclass: Martin Garcia Garcia will be holding a masterclass on Monday, May 8 at 10:00 am in Beall Hall. This is our final OMTA guest presentation of the year. In addition, Mr. Garcia will be performing in Corvallis the day before on Sunday, May 7.

End of the Year Social & Potluck: On Monday, May 22 at 9:00 am, Christine Mirabella will host our end-of-the-year gathering. Christine will send out details with her location and parking.

Mary Ellen Yost: Mary Ellen is at Green Valley and arrangements can be made to visit her through her daughter, Heidi. We are welcome and encouraged to visit her. Please contact Nick for details.
